To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this recommendation for Lingyu Cao. As an Information Systems professor at NYU Stern, I've had the pleasure of teaching Lingyu for my Programming in Python MBA class.

During the class, Lingyu showed great dedication to the material and performed well in the class. Lingyu always completed his assignments on time. He also has a good mastery of Python and is eager to further pursue his studies in the data analytics and science field.

I would strongly recommend Lingyu to any program. Should you have any questions about Lingyu's candidacy for your program or this reference, please do not hesitate to contact me at the e-mail address below.

Sincerely,
Navin Manglani
Professor, Information Systems
